DEPARTMENT OF STATE, }
WASHINGTON, March 14, 1865. }

The President directs that all persons who are now, or shall hereafter be found within the United States, who have been engaged in holding intercourse or trade with the insurgents, or who are citizens of the United States, or domiciled aliens, be arrested and held as prisoners of war until the war shall close, subject, nevertheless, to prosecution by trial, and conviction for any offence committed by them as spies or otherwise, against the laws of war.

The President further directs that all non-residents and foreigners, who now are, or hereafter shall be found in the United States, and who have been, or shall have been engaged in violating the blockade of the insurgent ports, shall leave the United States within twelve days from the publication of this order, or from their subsequent arrest in the United States, if on the Atlantic side, and forty days if on the Pacific side of the country, and such persons shall not return to the United States during the continuance of the war.

Provost Marshals and Marshals of the United States will arrest and commit to military custody all such offenders as shall disregard this order, whether they have passports or not, and they will be detained in safe custody until the end of the war, or until discharged by subsequent order of the President.

(Signed) WM. H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State.

FROM SHERMAN'S ARMY.

Sherman at Fayetteville and in Direct Communication with Wilmington---He "is all Right."

NEW YORK, Wednesday, March 15.---The Herald's Washington special says: "No doubt is entertained here that Sherman had reached Fayetteville without an engagement of any kind, except cavalry skirmishes. He will be joined by Terry from Clinton, and by Schofield, and be re-supplied. The direct communication with Sherman, notwithstanding the beatings of the Richmond press, show they cannot stop his progress."

FORTRESS MONROE, Tuesday, March 14.---The steamer Champion arrived this morning, from Wilmington, March 11th, bringing definite intelligence respecting the movements of Sherman and the forces.

On the morning of the 11th instant, scouts from Sherman reached Wilmington with news that Sherman had reached Fayetteville, North Carolina, and was coming in by immediate route, quietly reading preparatory to another march northward.

RICHMOND, N. C., March 13.---General Sherman has opened communication with Wilmington, from Fayetteville. He sends word that he is all right, and marching on. We expect to hear some gratifying news from him in a few days.

FORTRESS MONROE, Tuesday, March 14---Everything is quiet and normal at Wilmington. Business of all kinds is gradually resuming its former aspect. The old merchants and residents, remaining in town, are rapidly accustoming themselves to a cosmopolitan and a more order of affairs.

Major General's Crook and Kelly are here this afternoon, from City Point, on the mail steamer Dictator. They were exchanged yesterday at Varina, and left for Baltimore on the steamer Ada.

FROM SCHOFIELD'S ARMY.

The Victory Over Bragg Complete---Our Loss Small---Additional Details.

PHILADELPHIA, Wednesday, March 15.---The Bulletin has received the following special dispatch:

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 15.---At noon, to-day, the War Department received advices by telegraph, at Fortress Monroe, that Schofield occupied Kinston, N. C., on the 13th instant, Gen. Bragg and his army retreating.

A dispatch from Newbern, dated the 11th, says that the pursuit taken by the rebels in front of Kinston have been recaptured; that Gen. Terry has formed a junction with our forces there, and that Sherman was expected in the rear of the rebels at Goldsboro on the 14th or 15th.

A Washington special says that Gen. Schofield has placed Gen. Hawley in command at Wilmington, for the better organization of North Carolina troops for the March for more years. He left Fortress Monroe in command of the Army of the James.

The Herald's Newbern correspondent, dating March 11th, says: "Some of the heaviest fighting there has been since the commencement of the war, took place on Thursday, at Kinston, occurring on Friday. The rebels had apparently learned that Gen. Cox, with a por tion of the 23th corps, was not far off, and would soon join Cox, and it urged them to extraordinary desperation. They charged again and again upon our forces, making ten or twelve separate charges through the day. Generally they spent their fury upon the left, but some of the time they would charge upon the entire line, vainly hoping that they could overwhelm so large a body of troops as down everything. Our men, however, stood their ground heroically, 25 affected by plan of battle, and the rebels were driven back with great slaughter. The enemy also fought with valor worthy a better cause. It was the hardest fighting we have had since the commencement of the campaign. Darkness closed on Friday night and Saturday morning, Cox's forces came up from towards Wilmington, and effected a junction on the left, but neither of the forces pursued the enemy, of which the rebels were not slow to become informed. So they at once began to fall back, and when our forces moved forward on Saturday morning, they found the enemy gone. They had crossed the Neuse River. They are now on the north side of the river, with the bridge that crosses over it. It is almost entirely burned. The much-talked-of iron Neuse was also partially destroyed.

"Our forces followed them up vigorously, and will doubtless prepare to cross over the river at once by means of a pontoon bridge, or by swaying the bridge which is left standing for the use. It is now over. I apprehend that there will be no difficulty now in reaching Goldsboro. Many rebels are left on other side of the river. Gen. MARK NORTHROP—NEW NORTH.

Within the next few weeks a new and direct route will be opened to one of the richest and most important fields within the grasp of enterprising enterprise. The question is, Will our different departments of trade give it that attention which is essential to secure its advantages? We allude to the opening of the Peninsular Railroad, which, in connection with a line of boats on Green Bay, and the Northwestern Railway, gives us a direct route to Lake Superior; and, if energetic efforts are made, our city within the next few months can command the rich and rapidly increasing trade of the mineral districts of that wonderful region. The line, as arranged to be in operation as soon as navigation opens, is as follows:

The regular through train is to start from this city at 9 o'clock in the evening, from the depot of the Northwestern Railway. At 8 o'clock next morning passengers and freight will be all aboard the splendid steamer now being L. Dunlap or May Queen, at the fine little city of Green Bay, bound for Escanaba, the new town at the Green Bay terminus of the Peninsular Railroad. A new and splendid hotel—the Tilden House—has been built at Escanaba, where passengers will find themselves at home for the night, or after tea they can take the cars, and by 10 o'clock reach Marquette, on Lake Superior. This gives but a single day between Chicago and the great Inland sea of the North. From Marquette lines of boats will be established, running to all points on Lake Superior, giving the best possible facilities for trade and travel to the rich country bordering upon that magnificent lake. It is unfortunate that at the opening of the trade the through line cannot start from this city in the morning; but, until lighthouses can be built on the route or steamers through Green Bay, it is dangerous for them to run there in the night.

The completion of the Peninsular Railroad and the organization of this new line will open to our business men and merchants a new and most lucrative field for business efforts. The Lake Superior trade has thus far been mainly done by Detroit and Cleveland, and it has contributed very largely towards building up those cities. Several of the leading Lake Superior merchants, satisfied that the trade must now come here, are, we understand, making arrangements to establish themselves in this city. Chicago will give them a cordial welcome.

Two or three large steamers per day have been required to do the business from Detroit and Cleveland, and no one till he studies the subject can have any idea of the extent and importance of this trade. The question now is, will Chicago avail herself of the decided advantages which the opening of this new line offers to secure it? That she can do so, with proper exertions, there cannot be a particle of doubt. Ore and iron, in pigs, can be laid down at Escanaba, from the cars of the Peninsular Railroad, at a very slight advance beyond what it will cost to deliver them at Marquette, thus saving all the dangers of the navigation on Lake Superior and the delay of the St. Mary's Canal and River. There can be no reason in the world, therefore, why Chicago cannot secure the bulk of the trade heretofore monopolized by the lower lake cities. Goods of all kinds, flour, grain, hay, provisions—every article necessary to mining operations can all be had in this market as cheap, and most of them cheaper, than any where else. Large quantities of iron have been accumulating during the winter along the line of the Peninsula Railroad, ready for shipment as soon as vessels can be got to Escanaba to receive it from the cars. We learn that the Lake Superior towns and districts are looking to Chicago as the cheapest and most natural emporium of their trade, as soon as this new route shall be relieved from the ice embargo of winter. In order to verify this just expectation we advise our leading manufacturers and merchants to detail a partner or efficient and trust-worthy agent or clerk to visit the Lake Superior region as soon as possible after navigation opens, to find out what goods are suitable to that market, make themselves acquainted with merchants and generally to learn whatever may be necessary to a right understanding of the wants and trade necessities of the mining districts. That our citizens will find it largely for their interest to make vigorous exertions to secure the Lake Superior trade there cannot be a particle of doubt, and that it will be the speedy and positive results will abundantly prove. Who of our citizens will make the effort and secure the reward?

THE CASE OF CAPTAIN LOPER.

The Washington Chronicle, of the 11th inst., publishes the following letters relative to the case of Captain Loper:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27, 1865.

DEAR SIR: As you desired when I saw you in the early part of the month, I addressed a note to the Secretary of War, Department of War, and received, his answer, under date of the 8th inst., a copy of which I enclose to you. I cannot claimed infallibility for the committee of the Senate on army transportation, of which I am a member. The testimony taken by the other witnesses was necessarily mostly of an ex parte character. The conclusions reached, by the committee, mostly drawn from the testimony of witnesses, and it would seem, from the letter of Mr. Wright, that he attached the same importance to the committee, "on the facts as presented to them."

I am happy to learn that you have been able to present to the Solicitor other facts, not in evidence before the committee, which, in his opinion, would exempt you from all blame in your transactions with the Government.

Your obedient servant,

JAMES W. GRIMES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8, 1865.

Hon. J. W. Grimes, United States Senate.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have just received your note requiring whether I have examined into the transactions of Capt. B. F. Loper, with the Government in connection with army transportation, and requesting me, if willing, to communicate the result of my examination.

Capt. Loper's transactions were brought to my attention through a Quartermaster's clerk, against whom he had presented claims for additional pay, and who, by a report of a committee of the Senate, referred to me by the Secretary of War. As great frauds had been committed by certain persons in that department, suspicion had fallen on many, and the Government was anxious to detect itself so far as possible from imputation by having the examination of all transactions relating to the chartering of vessels for transportation. In the great respect I entertained for the committee who investigated and reported on these matters, and with whose conclusions, on the facts as presented to them, I generally agreed, I was led to believe that Capt. Loper's conduct had been reported on Chicago Tribune.

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1864.

THE CITY.

ITEMS.—The Illinois Central train did not leave this city last evening. The rain had washed away a portion of the track near Bloomington.

PERSONAL.—Judge Miller of the United States Court, and Brig.-Gen. Henry A. Barnard, of Michigan, are stopping at the Sherman House.

SWITZLER.—A Canadian, named Joseph Morris, hailing from Montreal, was yesterday examined out of $30 in Canada bank notes and $5 in United States currency, by means of the well known confidence game.

PRIZE-FIGHTER—SANITARY FAIR.—Rev. E. M. Boring and Judge Bradwell will speak to the people of Prairie, at the Methodist Church, on Tuesday evening next, at half past 7 o'clock, in reference to the approaching Fair.

SCHOOL OF THE MUSICAL LABORATORY.—Mons. Wrenger will deliver his lecture entitled "Suggestions to Students of Modern Languages," this evening, in the rooms of the Musical Union, Methodist Church Block. The lecture commences at eight o'clock.

RECORDER OF CRIMINES.—In reply to a correspondent we state that the last Report of the Chief Recorder of the Joliet Penitentiary gives the names of 286 convicts. Of these 236 are marked as "able to read and write well;" 21 as "able to read only;" and 16 as being unable to do either.

SOLDIER'S AID FOUR.—The Young Men's Christian Association is now disbursing from $600 to $700 weekly, through the Relief Committee, to the needy in the city. They report the calls on their aid as increasing, and the treasury as now well replenished to meet the continued drain. The supplies received in February was $31.

OFF TO THE FRONT.—The 126th regiment Illinois volunteers left Camp Fry last evening for the front. Their departure is the subject of a great deal of regret on the part of the ladies, who will not remain amateurs long.
